UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
LIBRARIES

October 19, 1973 No.22

SUPPLIES: Your written orders for items that are stocked by the library are being filled and sent out within 24 hours. We are starting a new service that should be of benefit in emergency situations. Beginning Oct. 22, 1973, Cliff Black will be in his office (406 King Library) from 10-11 Monday through Friday to fill orders for those that would prefer to pick them up personally. We hope that this service will greatly reduce the need for "immediate" supplies. For those items that are not stocked by the library, please keep in mind the current state of the economy. Inventories are low; production is running at near peak capacity and deliveries are VERY SLOW. If you anticipate projects that require additional or new supplies, sufficient lead time in ordering will lessen the possibilities of "doing without" come start-up. A point to remember: Helga, Teri and Rose do not, can not fill your supply orders. They don't even know where the stuff is! We appreciate your cooperation. Thank you.

PERSONNEL CHANGES: Appointments: La-Donna McCowan, classified, Cataloging; Deborah Henderson, classified, Circulation; Louise Shelburne, classified, Interlibrary Loan. Promotions: Rita Tongate, classified, Cataloging.

POSITION OPENINGS: Reference, classified VII, open 10/18/73; Acquisitions, classified VI, open now.

UKLA: "The first fall meeting of UKLA will be held on October 24 at 4:00 p.m. in the Rare Book Room of King Library. There will be no business meeting, in order that we may give ample time to our guest speaker. Dr. Steve Topel, chief psychiatrist of a special government unit now working in Lexington, will talk to us about group interaction and how to plan meetings that produce full and lively participation. Let's test it and see how it works."

PLACEMENT: If you're interested in working as a professional in a Law Library, contact Paul Willis. He has a 3-page list of job openings in Law Libraries throughout the country.

SOLINET: The Southeastern Library Network, Inc. has a new newsletter as well as a new director. The first issue (October 1, 1973 Vol. 1, No. 1) produced the following bits and pieces among others: The newsletter is to be issued monthly...Atlanta, Georgia will be the home of the new headquarters when it opens in November or December of this year...The network is right on schedule according to the Kennedy-Eckhardt feasibility report..."The time-table of replication 15 months after the hiring of a director...still looks good"...SOLINET members will have the opportunity to take advantage of a tie-in to OCLC prior to implementation of a SOLINET system"...non-profit status as an educational institution has been granted by the IRS...First meeting will be held Nov. 8 in Atlanta and will be attended by Bill Gardner from UK.

KLA: At the annual meeting of the Kentucky Library Association held in Louisville, Kentucky on October 10-13, Ellen Baxter, Chemistry/Physics Librarian was elected the vice chairman of Special Libraries Association, Kentucky Provisional Chapter for 1974. The newly elected chairman of Kentucky Libraries Association Special Libraries Section is Vivian Hall, Geology Librarian.

MANSELL: "The editing of The National Union Catalog: Pre-1956 Imprints reached the halfway point after five and one half years of the National Union Catalog Publication Project's existence. During this period approximately 10 million cards from A through K have been interfiled, edited, typed, and shipped to the publisher, Mansell Information/Publishing Ltd., London, England, and 275 published volumes have been received with a alphabetic coverage through Jersey City. (Board of Education). An additional 10 million cards remain to be edited for the catalog, the largest bibliography ever undertaken, with an expected 610 volumes." (Library of Congress Information Bulletin, 32:314, Sept. 7, 1973)

SUBJECT HEADINGS OF THE WEEK: Arts - Nigeria - Management; Bombs - Safety measures; Do-it-yourself work; Middle managers; Mummies - Radiography; Pot - lids - England.

SCI: "A representative from the Institute for Scientific Information (ISI) will present a tutorial on the use of SCIENCE CITATION INDEX (SCI) for all interested faculty, staff and students in Room 245 of the Student Center on November 9th. One presentation will be at 10:30 A.M. and another at 2:00 P.M.

SCI is an international interdisciplinary index to the literature of science, medicine, agriculture, technology and the behavioral sciences. It covers more than 2,400 primary journals. The approach is multidisciplinary and uses an indexing system that follows scientist's own traditional method of literature searching - that of locating articles related to their subject interests by examining citations of articles known to be relevant.

A new tool, SOCIAL SCIENCES CITATION INDEX, will also be reviewed. This will be a great interest to those persons in law and the social sciences. The same basic approach is used. All interested persons are urged to attend."

"LIBRARY GOVERNANCE: Ed Holley, Dean of the School of Library Science at North Carolina and President-elect of ALA, reviews many of the questions librarians have been kicking around re: faculty status, collective bargaining and the role of supportive personnel in libraries. He wraps it up by suggesting that library workers ask themselves these two basic questions:

1. How do they want to participate in library management?
2. Will staff participation benefit not only the staff, but the library's clientele as well?' (WLB, September, 1973. pp.42-48)"

(University of Cincinnati NEWSLETTER, 2:2, October 5, 1973)
Editorial comments concerning this position will be gladly received.

ORALL: "The Ohio Regional Association of Law Libraries will hold its fall meeting in Lexington, under the sponsorship of the University of Kentucky Law Library. Friday'morning's session in the Law College court room will feature a panel discussion on automated legal research, with Robert J. Asman, president of the Ohio State Bar Association Automated Research, Jay Lautzenheiser of IBM, and Courtney J. Walker of the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission.

On Friday afternoon Esther Greenberg of Case Western Reserve University Library and David P. Walte, president of Information Dynamics Corporation, will discuss computers and technical processing.
