JULIAN M. CARROLL
Governor of Kentucky

Julian Morton Carroll became Kentucky's 58th governor on Dec. 28, 1974, succeeding Wendell H. Ford, who was elected to the U.S. Senate. Carroll was elected to a full four-year term as governor in November 1975 and was inaugurated in December of that year. Born in McCracken County in 1931, Carroll attended Paducah Junior College after graduating from Heath High School. He was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1954 and received his law degree from UK in 1956. Before becoming governor, Carroll served three years as lieutenant governor and ten years as a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives, the last four as Speaker of the House. He is an active member of the Optimist Club and a former Jaycee. He attained the highest office in Kentucky for laymen of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in 1966-67 when he was named moderator of the Kentucky Synod. The Governor and his wife, Charlann, have four children.

DR. OTIS A. SINGLETARY
President, University of Kentucky

Dr. Otis A. Singletary came to Lexington in 1969 as the eighth president of the University of Kentucky, which was established in 1865 under provisions of the Morrill Act of 1862 as the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kentucky University. In 1878, the school separated from KU and became an independent institution supported by the State. It has been known as the University of Kentucky since 1916.

Prior to assuming the UK presidency, Dr. Singletary was executive vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of Texas, Austin. He earlier had been director of the Job Corps program for the Office of Economic Opportunity, and chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. His many honors include the UK Alumni Service Award—a recognition rarely bestowed upon a non-alumnus of the University.

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN
Director of Athletics

Cliff Hagan returned to his alma mater January 1, 1972, as assistant director of athletics and then was named athletics director July 1, 1975. One of the all-time great basketball players at UK, he played on teams that won 86 of 91 games and an NCAA championship (1951). The 1954 team, undefeated in 25 games, elected not to play in the national tournament. Hagan set a dozen SEC records and an NCAA record of 528 rebounds as a junior. He averaged 29 points a game, led the nation in rebounding, and scored a then-UK record 51 points against Temple in 1954.

He was All-American at UK, All-Pro with the St. Louis Hawks and player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals. He was named the 1968 Texas "Professional Coach of the Year."

STADIUM INFORMATION

FIRST AID—The University of Kentucky provides, for your convenience and welfare, First Aid Stations on the ground level on both sides of the stadium. On the West side is Room 156, the East side Room 172. An ambulance is available at each corner of the stadium. Twenty doctors on duty are spotted in each section of the stadium and are easily accessible to Boy Scouts and ushers. Two golf cart ambulances are equipped for immediate aid and located on the second level on each side of the stadium. Persons with any type of chronic medical problem are requested to leave their name and seat location with the nurse on duty at either First Aid station. A person in need of assistance with a health emergency should report the situation immediately to the nearest Boy Scout or usher.

CARDIAC CARE—In cooperation with the University Medical Service, the University of Kentucky provides a cardiac resuscitation program.

LOST AND FOUND—Lost and found articles should be reported or turned in to an usher or a security officer. You may wish to write to the director of public safety (305 Euclid Avenue) and describe lost articles which will be returned if found.

CROWD NOISE PENALTY—Uncontrolled crowd noise can result in a five yard penalty against your team. Please observe quarterback and official's signals for quiet.

NO HORNS—Horns are not permitted in Commonwealth Stadium and will be picked up at gates. Be considerate and allow your neighbor to enjoy the game. Keep portable radios at a low volume.

GATE INFORMATION—All gates are open two hours before game time. Parking lots are open three hours before game time. All stadium exits will be opened after the game. Please do not leave the stadium during the game or at half-time if you plan to re-enter. No "Pass-out" tickets will be issued and you will not be permitted to re-enter.

FIELD REGULATIONS—Spectators must keep off the playing field at all times and after the game. Spectators must use the stadium ramps for exits.

LIQUORS—Alcoholic beverages are strictly prohibited within the stadium as are all food and drink containers including hard surfaced materials of any type, bottles, cans, thermos bottles, ice bags, ice chest, and any object related to above. Gate personnel are instructed to enforce this rule in the interest of safety.

PUBLIC ADDRESS—Messages for the public address announcer are acceptable only in emergencies and must be approved by the Sports Information Director at the Press Box.

SIGNS—Signs and barriers are restricted for Commonwealth Stadium in accordance with University regulations and policies established by the Public Safety Division.

PARKING—More than 5,000 parking spaces are located in four lots around the stadium, along with a bus-camper lot. Some areas are set aside for Blue & White Fund members, handicapped persons, staff and the press. Located nearby on the campus are many free parking spaces in University lots. Shuttle buses carry passengers to and from the campus lots and the stadium.

GENERAL TICKET POLICY FOR STADIUM

- All persons must have a ticket
- No pass out checks permitted at any gate
- All sales final
- Tickets cannot be refunded or replaced if lost, stolen or destroyed
- The University of Kentucky Athletic Association reserves the right to revoke tickets by refund of purchase price
- Holder of tickets to University of Kentucky athletic events agrees to abide by stadium and University Policies

Fran Curci

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Fran Curci enters his fourth season as head football coach at the University of Kentucky, where the program still is in a rebuilding stage, as evidenced by the large number of freshmen and sophomores who have earned varsity letters during the past three years.

Curci's best year with the Wildcats was 1974, when he gave UK fans their first winning season (6-5) in nine years. Plagued by injuries, failure to find a suitable replacement for Mike Fanuzzi at quarterback and some unfortunate extemporaneous factors, the Wildcats fell to 2-8-1 last season.

Reputed as one of the nation's finest recruiters, Curci has worked long and hard to attract fine talent to Lexington and his first three Wildcat squads have featured a host of freshmen and sophomores playing prominent roles.

Curci came to the University from the University of Miami, Fla., where he was head coach two years. He started his career as freshman coach at Miami in 1962 after making All-American there in 1959 and playing as a 5-foot-9, 152 lb. quarterback for the old Dallas Texans of the AFL. In four years his Hurricane frosh teams won 12 and lost two. He later served as varsity offensive assistant at Miami (1966-67) and in both of those years Miami wound up in bowl games.

He was tapped by the University of Tampa in 1968 to see what he could do about a faltering football program; in three campaigns, he wrote one of the most amazing success stories in college football.

In his first year at Tampa, he put together a 7-3 season, which included victories over Mississippi State and Tulane. That earned for him the Florida Sports Writers Association "Coach of the Year" award, a recognition repeated in 1970. Curci's 1969 season was a brilliant 8-2 affair. His 10-1 record in 1970 also included a 31-14 triumph over Miami and brought the Tampans the nation's No. 1 College Division ranking as well as bringing Curci College Division "Coach of the Year" runner-up honors.

He took over as Miami grid boss Dec. 19, 1970, and left the program there in good shape for his successor.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., he played his high school ball in Miami, where he lettered three years as a quarterback at Archbishop Curley High and was All-City, All-Conference, Catholic All-State and his team's Most Valuable Player.

At the University of Miami, he was known as the "Mite-y Magician." Playing at 152 pounds, he parlayed intelligence and desire to become All-America as a senior in 1959 after receiving honorable mention All-America and winning acclaim as one of the foremost sophomore football stars in the country in 1957.

His record-shattering feats at Miami included breaking of seasonal and career marks for total offense, most passes thrown, most passes completed and most yards gained on passing. He also was co-holder of the record for most TD passes thrown.

He rolled up 2,767 yards rushing and passing during his varsity career, breaking a total offense record that had stood for more than two decades.

As a senior, he captained Miami and climaxed his career by engineering a stunning upset (18-23) over Michigan State.

After graduation in 1960 with a degree in marketing, he played one year with the Dallas Texans and then served as a lieutenant in the Army, coaching and playing football for the Fort Eustis team, which won the National Service championship in the Missile Bowl.

Curci has been selected five times to coach in all-star games. He assisted Bear Bryant with the South team in Tampa's first annual American Bowl game three years ago, then served as South head coach the next year. He helped Charlie McClendon of LSU and Alex Agase of Northwestern direct the East in the Coaches All-America football game at Lubbock, Texas, two summers ago, was co-South coach with Bill Battle of Tennessee in Miami's Shrine North-South game in 1975 and assisted Lou Holtz with the East squad in the first Japan Bowl held this year in Tokyo.

HOW A WOMAN VIEWS THE COLLEGE GAME

by Stephanie Salter

What do women think of football? A sidewalk survey of men would probably bring answers ranging from "very little" to "You gotta be kiddin'." Direct the same question to women and the replies might be surprising. All of the cartoons that show hubby glued to the TV set while wife either nags or appears bored to tears would have us believe that women have no interest in football. Not true. Oh, sure, on the surface football is not a popular subject with women. They don't congregate in bars to rehash last Saturday's game or sit around the beauty salon reasoning that the coach should have tried a zig-out pattern on third and four instead of running off tackle into State's 6-3-2 defense.

This is not to insist that some women don't look upon football as representing chunks of lost weekends watching ones' brothers, boyfriends or husbands hollering and moaning in front of the TV or in the bleachers. There are a few of us who could relate to this scene described by Sports Illustrated's Frank Deford in his novel Cut 'N' Run: "And what could she tell them of their father when he bellowed strange noises of joy and anguish from the club cellar and then bolted upstairs for another beer, gurgling and disarrayed? . . . 'Why does Daddy act like that sometimes?' little Jerry asked. 'Hush, child,' Rosalie said, tousling his hair. 'It's only Football. When the moon that comes after Christmas is full, the evil spirits will depart from him, and he will be your father again'."

Deford's hero might well have been a friend of mine who met his wife with flowers and champagne as she returned from the hospital with their first-born. The new father poured a round, downed a glass, mumbled a few apologies to the horror-stricken grandparents, then rushed out the door to catch a local college game. "I'd had tickets for weeks," he protests today.

If you want to talk surface impressions, you can fill the Orange Bowl with complaining women. But what I've noticed is when women separate the football from their men, the game is transformed into a source of pleasure, a genuine, bona fide female pastime. I understand the so-called mysteries or fine points of the game, but expertise in single-wing formations and end runs does not heighten the degree to which I have always enjoyed football; it has only redefined the enjoying. When I didn't know beans about football, I liked it and was involved in it. It is a sociological phenomenon, for heaven's sake. How can you not be involved?

In fact, the more I ruminate, football is one of those marvelous threads that runs through our lives, which time and again we can measure our progress (or lack of it) against, an institution like McDonald's and the Fourth of July.

For most American women, football became an integral part of their lives in high school. An activity which theretofore had simply consumed our male counterparts suddenly scooped us in, and this game became the weekly social event. If I am ever in a plane crash in the Andes, I will credit my ability to withstand unthinkable cold to my training at high school games. When I was growing up in the Midwest, the fashion was wool bermuda shorts and matching knee socks, very cute and very skimpy on December Friday nights. Often I looked longingly at the ponchos the players wore and wondered why the people around me kept saying, "Those poor guys, I'll bet they're freezing." They had coats. I had a mohair sweater.

On one particular night, a cheerleader—one of the seniors—frantically began the chant, "Hold that line!" which many of us in the stands obediently echoed. Then a guy in our midst called the cheerleader's name and shouted, "Hey, dumbell, we got the ball!" It was a humiliation I promised myself I would never suffer, and when I later became a cheerleader, held true to my vow. At no time in my career did I ever begin a technical cheer. Sticking to the basics like "Go! Fight! Win!" proved most intelligent. Touchdown or 15-yard penalty, nobody could take issue with "Go! Fight! Win!"

In my town, all six high schools kicked off the season with a jamboree, six quarters of football, the Northside against the South. Nobody cared who won. The jamboree was for the coaches to try out "unproven" talent and precarious plays, and for the rest of us to pass judgement on the kids from other schools.

That my high school had the second worse team in the conference was only slightly irritating to me and my friends. Amazing how we could get so emotionally involved with each set of downs, cry as the time ran out and we trailed 45-6, and then dance at a post-game sock hop with the very people who had inflicted our pain. Even now I have to believe no one really minded the losses, not even our coach. He kept his job through losing season after losing season, and informed the newspapers each fall that "This is the year we'll take all the marbles." He always had "some fine boys" on the squad, an "intelligent" quarterback, some "bruising" tackles and a pass defense that needed "a little work." As for the players, if they had been so involved, would they have smiled and waved to us from the sidelines?

Men remember specific plays, the superstar halfback who never amounted to anything and where their team finished in the league. Women remember the bonfires, the halftime shows, the cold and whether or not their team lost. Six of one, half a dozen of the other. Men have their technical memories; women, their aesthetic ones. You don't have to know a referee is calling time out when he puts his hands on his hips to be wrapped up in the excitement of a ball game.

And whatever people say about pro football, I think most women would tell you there is never more excitement than in a college game. In a big university or small community college, Saturday afternoon means one thing—a gigantic meeting of friends

Dr. James McComas

Dr. James D. McComas President
Mississippi State University

Dr. James D. McComas, 47, became the 14th president of Mississippi State University, July 1, 1976.

McComas, who succeeded Dr. William L. Giles, came to MSU from the University of Tennessee where he served as Dean of the College of Education since 1969. Before that he was Dean of the College of Education at Kansas State University and professor and head of the department of elementary and secondary education at New Mexico State University.

The MSU president holds a bachelor of science degree from West Virginia University in vocational and agricultural education and biological sciences, a master of science degree in vocational and secondary education from Ohio State, and the Ph.D., also from Ohio State, in agricultural-vocational education with additional study in educational administration, sociology, and educational research. He also has done post graduate work in curriculum and instruction at Ohio State.

Dr. Porter L. Fortune, Jr. Chancellor
University of Mississippi

Dr. Porter L. Fortune, Jr., the institution's twelfth chancellor and fourteenth administrative head, came to the University of Mississippi from a distinguished career in both the academic and business fields.

Born in Old Fort, N.C., Dr. Fortune holds the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of North Carolina.

A graduate of North Carolina, Dr. Fortune received the B.A. degree with highest honors in 1941. He received the M.A. degree from Emory University in 1946.

His teaching career has included assignments at Emory University, the University of North Carolina, and the University of Southern Mississippi where he began as an assistant professor in 1948 and rose to the position of Dean of the University, which post he held until October, 1961.

Dr. Fortune served in World War II as a Lieutenant Commander in the U.S. Navy, serving as commanding officer of an escort ship. For heroism in action, he received the Bronze Star Medal in 1943 in the Southwest Pacific area.

Dr. Edward J. Boling President
University of Tennessee

Dr. Edward J. Boling became the 17th president of the University of Tennessee on September 1, 1970. In this position he heads the University's entire state-wide system, which includes five primary campuses at Knoxville, Chattanooga, Martin, Memphis and Nashville, plus other academic centers at Tullahoma, Oak Ridge, and Kingsport as well as agricultural research and extension programs throughout Tennessee.

Dr. Boling is a native Tennessean and earned both the bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration from UT, then completed the doctor's degree—specializing in higher education administration—at Peabody College in Nashville.

Dr. Paul W. Murrill Chancellor
Louisiana State University

Dr. Murrill assumed his present post as chancellor of the largest campus in the LSU system in 1974 following five years of effective service as vice chancellor and dean of academic affairs.

Dr. Murrill was born in St. Louis, Mo., on July 10, 1934, but was reared in Clinton, Miss. He earned his bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering at the University of Mississippi and later received M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from LSU.

He began his teaching career in 1961 at LSU and only six years later was named head of the LSU chemical engineering department.

Richard Thigpen Executive Vice President and Acting Chief Executive Officer—University of Alabama

Mr. Richard Thigpen, Executive Vice President and Acting Chief Executive Officer of the University of Alabama, is a native of Birmingham, Alabama. He has received three degrees from the University: A.B. in political science and history, M.A. in history, and J.D. from the University's School of Law. In addition, he received his LL.M. from the Yale University Law School where he ranked first in his class.

Introducing the dollar stretchers.

Your SAFECO agent is a good person to know. Because he can show you more than 136 ways to stretch your insurance dollar. Here are some examples.

1. Cut costs on disability insurance by increasing the elimination period. The longer the elimination period (time lag between the beginning of a disability and the first income payment), the lower the premiums.

2. Keep your valuables in a safe place. You may be able to lower fine arts, stamp and coin collection insurance rates if you store the items in bank vaults, home vaults or fire-proof safes.

3. Go for a bigger hunk of life. Many insurance companies offer discounts for larger policies. So avoid buying a bundle of small policies when one might do.

4. Don't make the wrong move with moving insurance. Before you buy a special, and often expensive, policy sold by moving companies, check your homeowners. You may already be covered.

5. Check your life policy before you fly. If you have adequate life insurance coverage, you won't have to buy expensive airline trip transit policies.

6. Unless you own an oil well, don't invest in endowment policies. For most people, endowment policy premiums are too high for the value received. Many would be better off with a straight life policy.

7. Be a boating expert. Some companies will give you up to a 10% discount if you complete an approved power-boat handling course.

8. Increase deductibles on your business insurance. You could save up to 18% on your building insurance premium by carrying a $1,000 deductible.

9. Keep an extra set of accounts receivable. If you keep a duplicate set at another location, you could save up to 50% on the accounts receivable premium.

10. Check into I.R.A. retirement plans. They provide a good way to buy your life insurance through tax-deductible dollars.

11. Don't get stranded by your auto insurance. Check to see if your comprehensive provides transportation expenses if your car is stolen. You may be able to save yourself some car fare.

12. Go for the big deductibles. You could save a lot on your premiums if you carry a $200 collision deductible rather than a $100 deductible—and take a $50 deductible on comprehensive. And any loss over $100 is deductible from your income tax.

13. Lock the barn door before the horse gets away. Do everything you can to avoid losses to your home. Check for hazards. Install alarms. Buy good locks, and use them. Keep fire department, police and emergency medical aid numbers handy. It's the best way in the world to fight rising insurance costs.

14. Don't look for bargains in health insurance. A cheap policy just may not be adequate. And this is one place where it's better to have too much than too little.

15. Buy insurance from an agent who's not just a company man. A local independent agent, who represents many companies and sells many different insurance plans, may be able to get you a better deal. Because independents are free to sell you what's best for you. And get you the best value to boot.

If you think these tips make sense, see the people who wrote the book. SAFECO has put together a handy, 36-page consumer guide that tells you how to get more for your insurance dollar. It contains the 15 tips you've just read. Plus 121 more. For this handy guide, write to SAFECO at SAFECO Plaza, Seattle 98185.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

with a single common interest. College football games cut right across every political, ideological and sexual boundary. For a couple of hours, everyone has the same thing in mind.

There were few constants in my four years of college, as I moved from sorority pledge to campus radical to cynical job-seeker, but no home game found me anywhere than in my stadium seat. I traded my Villager tweeds for an army jacket and jeans, but I would not have given up my season ticket for anybody's revolution.

As a freshman, just being a part of a crowd of 65,000 was a heady experience. To get tickets to the game we were required to sit in the card section which did not please all the men, but could not have been better for me. As part of a mass, I learned a few of those elusive nuances of the game. All you had to do was watch the yell leaders. They knew when to say "Hold that line," and by the end of my first season, so did I. All of us looked forward to touchdowns, not just for their numerical value, but because a TD insured a shower of contraband toilet paper rolls. I still think fondly of those cascading streamers which turned the basest of dorm supplies into a thing of beauty. And the personal triumph of smuggling two or three of them past the guards!

That's a difference between men and women. We are blessed and burdened with handbags and, as a result, smuggling has become our special skill. A cool and indifferent air has always worked well for me. I could get my ticket and student ID out of the same bag that held a half dozen rolls of toilet paper, and no one was the wiser. As I advanced in age, and our seats improved each year, my girlfriends and I took to smuggling in a little pick-me-up now and then. Never fans of mixing or depending on the Coke vendor, whatever we used to ward off the autumn cold, we carted in one bottle. In senior year, my roommates and I hit upon cream sherry as our refreshment. As the fraternity men around us juggled thermoses and cups of orange juice, we simply passed our lady's drink back and forth, and grew fantastically content as the afternoon sun disappeared behind the stands.

Surely there is no male or female perspective on those lovely Saturday afternoons. The evening was ahead of us, our lives ahead of that, and our heroes were down there toiling away for our emotional entertainment. Time has a way of suspending itself on a college football Saturday. So too, perhaps, do the differences between the sexes.

A thrill is a thrill, after all, and it takes no one but the neophyte to appreciate a long run or an artful pass. Maybe more than ever, I realized that in a scrub game I played one Sunday on my dormitory lawn. It was late April and the first warm day of spring. The entire campus had rushed itself into cutoffs and tee-shirts and several of us had been sunbathing. One of my friends produced a football from her room, and we began to throw it around, finally splitting into sides and scrimmaging. Between the 10 of us, we knew essentially that the ball had to be snapped, thrown, caught and run with. That was about it. I advised my team that I would appear to throw to my roommate, but would really toss to our friend Louise. I took the ball from my center, faked, let fly a six or seven-yard bomb which was miraculously caught and delivered safely between two saplings, for six. It was one of the finest moments of my life, and somewhere in my exhilaration, I thought, "This must be what it is all about."

Did I say men remember the specific plays?

No water boy in this starting lineup.

This is the Delco Freedom Battery, the maintenance-free, power-full advance in battery technology from AC-Delco. There are no filler caps; you'll never have to add water. In fact, once it's installed you can virtually ignore it. That's why we named it "Freedom."

Features include a sealed top and Delco-Remy pioneered changes in cell material and design to promote continuing reliable power. The results are dramatic, even when compared to our best conventional battery: superior ability to hold a charge, resistance to damage from overcharging, superior ability to withstand today's higher under-the-hood temperatures. It should not require servicing for the entire life of the battery.

With the miseries of cold weather coming on, it's time to think about getting the Delco Freedom Battery on your team. See your neighborhood AC-Delco serviceman soon.

Now in his eighth year as president of the University of Kentucky, Otis Singletary is a Mississippian whose route to the Bluegrass State curled through Louisiana, Texas, North Carolina and Washington, D.C.

He came to Lexington from a position as University of Texas vice-chancellor for academic affairs. Previously, in Washington, he had been director of the U. S. Job Corps in the early stages of its development before moving to the American Council on Education as vice-president. He had gone to the capital in 1964 after three years as chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Alexander Heard Chancellor
Vanderbilt University

Alexander Heard, who was professor of political science and dean of the Graduate School at the University of North Carolina, was elected Chancellor of Vanderbilt University in 1962 and took office in 1963.

A recognized authority on southern politics and on the financing of political campaigns, Heard served as chairman of President John F. Kennedy's special bi-partisan Commission on Campaign Costs in 1961-62.

In 1964, he was appointed by President Lyndon B. Johnson to serve on the Advisory Commission in Intergovernmental Relations.

Dr. Harry M. Philpott President
Auburn University

Unprecedented growth has marked the existence of Auburn since Dr. Harry M. Philpott became its president in September of 1965.

Enrollment has increased. A branch campus in Montgomery has been opened and the endowment has jumped from $3 million to over $20 million.

Upon coming to Auburn from the vice presidency of the University of Florida, Dr. Philpott was appointed chairman of the Alabama Educational Study Commission which developed a ten-year plan for all of higher education in Alabama.

Dr. Philpott holds the B.A. degree from Washington and Lee University. He took the Ph.D. degree at Yale University. Honorary doctorates have been awarded him by Stetson, Washington and Lee, Florida and Alabama.

THE THIRD STRING QUARTERBACK

... The Man Who Runs The Other Team's Plays

by Joe McLaughlin, Houston CHRONICLE

Saturday's hero, more than not, is the quarterback of the college football team. He is the ONE you read about in the Sunday paper after a big victory. He is the ONE who seems to have the world in his arms, a bevy of girls on each arm, the one everyone looks up to. He is the glamor guy. The winner. After all, isn't he the one who threw three touchdown passes, ran for another and led his team to the big victory?

Certainly, the No. 1 quarterback of a college football team often gets the chief acclaim. Rightfully so, in most instances.

But what of the quarterback you rarely hear about, the one who toils in anonymity during those interminable daily workouts? Namely, the No. 3 quarterback—the one who never sees action on game day. Sometimes he's a red shirt who one day will find his place in the sun. More often, he will never read his name in the Sunday paper because he will not play in a game. What makes these invaluable young men tick? Why do they continue the seemingly endless daily grind of football drills?

Coaches will tell you the quarterback who runs the other team's offense against his team's No. 1 defense often is a person of unusual inner strength, one with strong character and moral fiber. The better qualified a third-string quarterback is, the better the overall team defense becomes, as it were. This is because the young man who realizes his position and understands it fully will utilize every skill at his command, ad libbing possibilities the defense might face on the following Saturday.

One such third-unit quarterback says, "If you can grab hold of the group you're with and attain some leadership, the first team will automatically sense this and gain your respect. It's the belief of every player that he should not be here (on the third unit) and it's his constant belief

The 3rd string QB usually sees limited game action, but gets his workout in practice as the "enemy leader."

THE 2-VOLUME WEBSTER'S 9-POUND, 1,380 PAGE, 158,000-DEFINITION $39.95 DICTIONARY NOW ONLY $19.95!

Can you imagine The New Webster International Dictionary of the English Language as a victim of recession? It is true! And just as the automakers offered rebates to drastically improve sales, so does Webster announce an incredible half-price slash of the publishers list price of $39.95 to an unbelievable $19.95 on the 1,380-page, nine-pound, 158,000-definition, 196-page supplemented, 2-volume, 1976 edition of The New Webster International Dictionary of the English Language. Now Only $19.95.

Think of it! This 2-volume reference work for home, school or office library has never before been offered at such an extraordinarily low price. The many years of exhaustive research are clearly reflected in this supreme lexicographic effort. From this research and from suggestions, contributions and critical review by such notables and men of letters as Charles C. Collingwood, Chief Foreign Correspondent, CBS; Radio and Television Commentator and Mark Van Doren, PhD.; Author; Poet; Professor Emeritus of English, Columbia University, a most respected and distinguished permanent editorial staff labored unstintingly for additional arduous years to give you what has culminated in this priceless, non-pareil etymological endeavor. Everyday, literally hundreds of thousands of people refer to The New Webster International Dictionary of the English Language.

The work itself is a joy to peruse and is printed in large, easy-to-read type. It begins with A Historical Sketch of the English Language by Mario Pei, Professor Emeritus at Columbia University. The vocabulary, A-Z, is included in 1,185 pages, with even the most modern of colloquialisms well defined. This section is prefaced with A Guide to the Use of The Dictionary and tables for the pronunciation symbols and abbreviations used therein. Also included is a dictionary of Prefixes and Suffixes with etymologies and meanings.

Other supplements include:

- A phenomenal 51,000-word thesaurus of Synonyms and Antonyms with 4,000 precise cross references—an invaluable adjunct that no dictionary can be without.
- Idiomatic Foreign Words and Phrases—French, Latin, Greek, Spanish, Italian, etc., pronounced and translated into English—a must with our present day emphasis on multilingualism.
- Over 2,500 abbreviations set forth and defined—an acronymic treasure house.
- Musical signs, symbols and abbreviations set forth and explained for even the novice.

Noah Webster (1758-1843). Father of lexicography and inspiration for founding of our company.

- Your knowledge of popular and famous quotations lends credence to your literary background. Hundreds of these priceless comments on a myriad of people, places and things makes this section, in many ways, the crown jewel of supplements. "The wisdom of the wise, and the experience of the ages, may be preserved by quotations."—Disraeli.
- Seven sections comprise the Students' and Writers' Guide; truly a complete reference in itself for high school, college, home and office. The pen is still mightier than the sword!
- Do you want an exact date between 1901 and 2100 AD? This precise, simple, perpetual calendar will keep you ahead of the times, up to date or behind the times. You'll always have the right date.
- Metric or United States (Imperial)—we're here to convert you—and make it quick and easy—in our world of number systems such conversion tables are a necessity.
- Our Occupational Guide lists dozens of jobs and professions with appropriate explanations of necessary training, salary ranges and job availabilities, etc. PLUS an extensive listing of National organizations and addresses that can lead you to the job of your choice.
- The awe-inspiring adventures of both Greek and Roman mythology are detailed in abridged form with appropriate cross references. Constant literary reference to these immortal people and stories makes this section a storehouse of interpretive information.
- The Secretaries' Guide and Manual of Information is a commercial course in itself. It holds the key to being a successful secretary giving detailed and explicit information on the position, office routine, letter writing and filing with complete, accurate and up to date subdivisions for each.

• Multiplication and Compound Interest Tables will ease your way through our "buy it on the installment plan" life. Precise, simple and accurate—if you don't pay cash, know what your purchase costs really are.

• Keep track of your own wages and salary. Timekeepers do make mistakes. These simple, accurate tables permit you to swiftly discover errors of computation in time spans as small as 15 minute periods.

THIRD STRING QUARTERBACK

that he won't continue there that makes him strive to perform better and move up."

Another one says, "It's different today since freshmen can play. A freshman quarterback, realistically, is not ready to play college football and a year or two of working on the scout team should be helpful. A lot of good players can't handle the pressure mentally, though. In my case, I was just happy to have a scholarship. That was reward enough."

One player who spent two years as a third-unit quarterback, one who finally reached the pinnacle, says, "I might not have made it if I hadn't gained that experience. When I was doing that, I felt I had to prove something, that I could play quarterback. I set my mind to that end and it eventually worked out. The one thing you can't judge about a player is his mental capacity to cope with the situation and if he has the strength to withstand it. A quarterback has got to be mentally tough at all times. He has to be in command of those around him. That's where leadership comes from. A player can sense it if a quarterback doesn't have that quality."

A quarterback who spent five years in college and never made the first team says, "Naturally, I wanted to start, but I was unlucky. I came along when there were better quarterbacks ahead of me. But I wouldn't trade my years on the team for anything. I think just being on the team was a great thrill. I have gained lifelong friends. We had an association that's hard to describe. It was like being a part of a large family. We were always together, win or lose."

"The best teams we've had," one coach says, "were when we had an excellent athlete who quarterbacked the scout team. It's simple. He made the No. 1 defense work harder and accomplish more. If he had not had some talent, the defense would not have had to work as hard. It all goes hand in hand. The better your third group is, the better your No. 1 group will be."

The psychological effect on the third-unit quarterback, of course, depends mostly on the individual. If he does not believe he will improve and work to that end, he will not help the overall team.

"Look," says one scout-team quarterback who never made No. 1. "I played with the greatest bunch of guys in the world. I didn't start any games, but they all respected me. I was knocked around every day, but every time I got knocked down, I'd get up and grin and tell them they made a good tackle. Pretty soon, they knew they weren't going to intimidate me. I got their respect that way."

"I'm not saying everyone could do that, but I did. And today I've got as many lasting friendships from my years on the team as any starter has. To me, football helped me become a man. I loved every minute of it."

Clearly, a third-string quarterback can be a winner, too.

Insta-Focus®—
the only binoculars
that keep fast moving action in focus.

Try using ordinary binoculars to follow the Quarterback fading back for a pass and then switching to a wide receiver sprinting into the end zone. Can't be done. Because no matter how good your binoculars are, you miss a lot of the action if you can't change focus fast enough.

Bushnell's unique Insta-Focus ends this problem forever. With Insta-Focus you can change focus as often as you want—instantly.

Bushnell binoculars with Insta-Focus are the only binoculars made specifically for the fan of fast moving sports action. Racing, hunting, bird watching, anything. ## Down Memory Row Here's a test for the Old Grad . . . and one which might even be tough for you recent UK graduates. Can you still identify the buildings on the main University campus?

We've made it a little harder with this bird's-eye view taken from an airplane by John Mitchell, UK director of photographic services.

The longer you've been out of school, the tougher the quiz will be. Answers are at bottom of page.

UK's ANTHROPOLOGY MUSEUM

By JACKIE BONDURANT
UK Information Services

The University of Kentucky Museum of Anthropology is a blend of ancient and modern cultures.

Artifacts dating from Kentucky's earliest inhabitants—before 8,500 B. C.—are preserved, displayed and compared with their modern day counterparts.

Wesley Creel, curator of the Anthropology Museum, designed and built the exhibits, and assists in the preservation of the artifacts.

Open in its new location in Lafferty Hall since May 1975, the museum has been on the Lexington campus since 1936 and formerly was housed in the Carnegie Library.

The museum depicts the various aspects of the origin, development, and varieties of cultures found in Kentucky. In addition, exhibits are included showing current research in archaeology (extinct cultures) and ethnology (living cultures) in Kentucky and throughout the world.

Many of the items on display in the museum were found in village sites and middens (ancient garbage pits)—discarded by the inhabitants because they were broken or no longer useful. Ironically, the constant dry temperatures of the caves preserved the now priceless remains.

Museum officials are still working on exhibits for the museum. Other disciplines of anthropology will be exhibited this spring.

An Indonesian exhibit also is scheduled to be a part of the museum display.

Dr. Lathel Duffield is director of the museum; Wesley Creel is the curator. The museum is open to the public, free of charge, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. When the UK Wildcats play football at home, the museum is open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. for day games and from noon to 5 p.m. for night games.

This ceramic effigy pot, found in Western Kentucky, is modeled after a woman and was used as a container.

Kernels of corn, a fragment of a pumpkin shell and the bowl of a pipe trace three Kentucky staples back to ancient times. The corn and pipe were found in a Western Kentucky "Mississippian" site; the pumpkin was discovered at a "Woodland" site in the Red River Gorge.

Kentucky music can be traced as far back as 1,000 B. C. These items were thought to be used during religious observances.

Wildcat Assistant Coaches

PERRY MOSS, OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

The newest member of Coach Curci's staff is Perry Moss, offensive coordinator who came to UK from San Antonio, where he guided the Wings to a 7-3 record and a World Football League division championship last year.

A native of Oklahoma, he earned football, baseball and basketball letters at Tulsa Central HS and was quarterback of the Tulsa team that defeated Georgia Tech in the 1945 Orange Bowl.

After service in the Army Air Corps in WWII, he quarterbacked Illinois to the 1946 Big Ten championship and the 1947 Rose Bowl championship. He was an A-A honorable mention in 1944-46-47 and recipient of the Boston Gridiron Club's National Award for Sportsmanship (1947). He played in the Chicago Trib's all-star games in 1945-48 and the 1945 Blue-Gray Classic and played professionally with Green Bay as QB in 1948.

Moss has served as an assistant coach at Illinois, Washington, LSU, Miami (Fla.) and Wisconsin. He was head football coach and AD at Florida State University in 1959, and head coach and GM of Montreal (1960-62) in the Canadian League, improving the last-place Alouettes to a play-off team.

He worked for Vince Lombardi as special assignment scout for the Packers in 1963 and then produced four championship teams in the Continental League at Charleston and Orlando (1964-67), earning league Coach of the Year honors in 1965-66-67.

Moss was head coach at Marshall University in 1968-69. He succeeded Sid Luckman as quarterback and backfield coach of the Chicago Bears (1970-73), leaving there in 1974 to succeed Bart Starr as QB coach for the Packers under Dan Devine.

BILLY MITCHELL, DEFENSIVE ENDS

Billy returned to his alma mater in 1974 from Wake Forest, where he was a member of K-Letterman Tommy Harper's staff. A native of Georgetown, he earned four letters as quarterback at Garth High, plus three letters each in basketball, track, and tennis. He was All-State two years in basketball and regional high jump and tennis champion. As a U.K. halfback, he earned three letters and also lettered as a high jumper for the Wildcat cinder squad. He was head coach at Manual High in Louisville in 1965 and then served as an assistant at Murray State, Virginia Tech and Wake Forest.

JOHN COOPER, DEFENSIVE SECONDARY

John came to UK in 1973 from the University of Kansas, where he was defensive coordinator, defensive secondary coach and recruiting coordinator. A standout safety as a college player, he was a member of Iowa State's famed "Dirty Thirty" Club of 1959 and captained the Cyclones in 1961. He remained at Ames a year as a member of Clay Stapleton's staff, then joined Tommy Prothro at Oregon State for the 1963-64 seasons. He went with Prothro to UCLA to coach the defensive backs. He left UCLA with Pepper Rodgers when the latter was hired for the KU head job following the 1966 season. A native of Clinton, Tenn., he was a quarterback and safety on the undefeated Powell High School team of 1952 and the 1953 team (7-3) and was named outstanding player in the Tennessee All-Star game. He also earned three letters each in basketball and baseball. At Iowa State, he was most valuable player in 1961. He was on the coaching staff of three bowl teams: Oregon State vs. Michigan in 1965, UCLA vs. Michigan State in 1966, and Kansas vs. Oregon State in 1963.

DAN COUGHLIN, DEFENSIVE LINE

A teammate of Fran Curci and a two-year starter as offensive guard and linebacker at the University of Miami, Dan cut his coaching teeth at Coral Gables High School, where he spent nine years with the perennially powerful teams there. During his tenure, the Cavaliers won 102 games, lost nine and tied one, registering nine shutouts in 13 games in 1967 and winning two national championships. A native of Cleveland, he played his prep football at Benedictine High. After graduating from Miami, he coached one year at LaSalle High there.

CHARLIE BAILEY, DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Charlie came to UK this year from Rice University, where he served three years as defensive coordinator and was assistant head coach. A native of Poca, W. Va., he was a high school quarterback there, earning three letters each in football, baseball and basketball. As an end on both offense and defense, he lettered four years at the University of Tampa, being named outstanding lineman and team captain, among other honors. After graduating from Tampa, he coached one year each at Poca High and Brandon, Fla., High before serving as an assistant at Tampa from 1964-70. He was defensive coach for Curci one year at Miami before moving to Rice.

JON MIRILOVICH, OFFENSIVE LINE

A former star end at the University of Miami, Jon was a teammate of Fran Curci at Miami's Archbishop Curley High, earning All-City and All-American honors. Playing as two-way end at U. M., he lettered three years and was accorded honorable mention All-American, teaming again with Curci. He played with the Dallas Texans before a leg injury cut short his career. He served successfully as assistant coach at Columbus High (1961-62) and Southwest High (1962-63), head coach at Columbus (1965-66) and as assistant coach at Coral Gables High (1968-69) before joining Curci at Tampa in 1970. The Spartans swept to a 10-1 record that year and rolled up an astounding 342 points, including 31 against U. M. and 48 against Florida A&M. Jon went to Miami with Curci in 1971 and came to U.K. with him in 1973.

DAVID WELLS, RECEIVERS

A native of Madisonville, Ky., Dave came to the University four years ago as a graduate assistant after serving an internship as an assistant at his high school alma mater. He earned three football letters and was an All-State running back at Madisonville, setting a school record for the most points in a season. He also earned three basketball and four track letters, participating in the state track meet two years. An Academic All-SEC and honorable mention Academic All-American, he lettered three years as a wingback at Ole Miss, playing on one SEC championship team and participating in the Sugar, Bluebonnet and Liberty bowls. He was with the Washington Redskins during the 1966 exhibition season and was a graduate assistant that fall and the following season at Ole Miss. He spent two years with the Army in Germany before returning to Madisonville.

DAN LEAL, CHIEF RECRUITER

A native of Oakmont, Pa., as is Fran Curci, Dan played linebacker and halfback in high school there, and graduated from Gannon College in Erie, Pa. He spent eight years with Spang & Co. in Butler, Pa., before coming to U. K. as Curci's chief recruiter. He had served as unofficial recruiter for Curci in the Pittsburgh area since Curci started coaching and recruiting in the college ranks. He is also UK's golf coach.

PREGAME .....

The 1976 Pregame music consists of a variety of popular and march tunes, including, "You've Got to Be a Football Hero", "Glory to the Gridiron", Chicago's "Make Me Smile", "Just One of Those Things", and the theme tune "When You're Smiling."

HALFTIME .....

This evening's halftime show draws its music from the jazz idiom. The performance begins with a quickpaced version of Benny Goodman's immortal "Sing, Sing, Sing". Chuck Margione's "Legend of the One-Eyed Sailor" introduces a modern jazz composition and features the band in concert. Vincent DiMartino, UK trumpet instructor and internationally known jazz performer, joins the band on a popular Doc Severinsen number, "Handel With Care".

As a finale, the band executes a precision drill and exit on Count Basie's "One O'Clock Jump", and "Alexander's Ragtime Band".

THE GREAT GAMES

Game of the Week? Game of the Year? Game of the Decade? Or Game of the Century? Whatever your choice, the American public has been treated to the best of NCAA football televised by ABC Sports which has captured the color and clamor of "the college game" for the past 10 consecutive years.

It has been a decade of glitter on the gridiron where all too often that fine line between delirium and despair is drawn by an inch of the sideline chain, a second's tick on the scoreboard clock or an unpredictable bounce of the ball on the goal-post cross-bar.

These are but a few of the ingredients which have spiced the college football menu over the past 10 years, and for a sampler of the decade's Top Ten televised titanics, producer Chuck Howard went out on the limb.

"There's been a wide variety of truly outstanding games over the years," Howard said, "and coming up with the top 10 hasn't been easy. The games I have selected, however, are particular classics and should stir vivid memories from football fans all over."

When it comes to the best of college football, the Emmy Award winning producer literally has seen them all. Here are Howard's "Top Ten:"

- Spartan fans have not forgotten. And Irish fans have not forgiven. It all began with the greatest build-up accorded a college football game in modern times. A classic showdown. A heralded epic. A monumental battle. It was No. 1 ranked Notre Dame facing No. 2 ranked Michigan State, both undefeated and untied, in what some had called "The Game of the Century." An over-flow throng of 80,011 crammed in Spartan Stadium (regular seating capacity: 76,000) and the raucous rooters of that Saturday afternoon, Nov. 19, 1966, sat drained and dehydrated after Notre Dame's Joe Azzaro kicked a 28-yard field goal on the first play of the fourth quarter to tie the game at 10-10. With Irish quarterback Terry Hanratty injured on the sidelines, unknown Coley O'Brien was in field command of Ara Parseghian's troops who were battling the Spartans to a fourth period standoff. As the clock wore down, tension rose both on the field and in the stands. Who would get the next break? A penalty . . . a fumble recovery . . . a pass interception . . . something . . . anything. But my God, not a tie! In the final minutes Notre Dame took over first-and-10 on its own 30. Desperation pass? Trick play? Parseghian said NO, and time was running out. Six ground plays later, the final gun sounded leaving emblazoned on the Spartan Stadium scoreboard a 10-10 verdict which became one of the most talked-about and second-guessed games in the history of college football. It was the final game of the season for Duffy Daugherty's Spartans while Ara Parseghian and his Irish went on to beat USC and win the national title.

- Everything was at stake! The national championship. The Big Eight title. And pride between two of the nation's most respected football powers of 1971. Bob Devaney's Nebraska Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 and, spearheaded by Jerry Tagge and Johnny Rodgers, were going into Norman, Oklahoma to battle Chuck Fairbanks' Sooners, ranked No. 2 and led by Jack Mildren and Gregg Pruitt. It was to be a bloodbath, witnessed by 63,385 fanatic fans who packed Owen Field on November 25, 1971. Would you believe that by midway in the final period 59 points had been scored? With 7:05 remaining in the game, Nebraska was behind, 31-28, and started to drive from its own 26 yard line. Plowing 74 yards in 12 plays, runningback Jeff Kinney scored the last of his four touchdowns of the day by plunging two yards over left tackle with 1:38 left on the clock as the Cornhuskers captured the conference crown and the national championship, 35-31. Nebraska went on to beat Alabama in the Orange Bowl and Oklahoma took its frustration out on Auburn in the Sugar Bowl winning 40-22.

- The President of the United States was there. The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham gave the invocation. And native Glenn Campbell returned to Arkansas to root on the Hogs. So did the majority of the 44,500 standing room only crowd in Razorback Stadium, proud and boisterous University of Arkansas fans clad in traditional red, who had come for what Texas' Darrell Royal had prophetically dubbed "The Big Shootout." It took place on a raw, gray December 6 afternoon in 1969. College football was celebrating its 100th year and Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas respectfully acknowledged the Centennial by installing artificial turf in Razorback Stadium. Both Texas and Arkansas sported 9-0-0 records going into the game and were ranked No. 1 and No. 2, respectively. The national championship and Southwest Conference titles were on the line. It was another one of those tailor-made titanics as the eyes of the college football world were focused on Fayetteville, Arkansas (pop: 30,000). Ahead 14-0 after three quarters of play, one might conclude that Arkansas was having things its own way. Texas argued to the contrary. And quite convincingly. Towards the end of the third period, Royal's roughnecks had started an 80-yard march, interrupted only by the sound of the quarter gun. On the first play of the fourth stanza, quarterback James Street scrambled 42 yards for a touchdown on a broken play. The call was for a pass, but with no receivers in sight. Street picked up some excellent downfield blocking and danced down the right side to make it 14-6. Darrell Royal honored his signal caller by selecting him the man to advance over left tackle and register a crucial two-point conversion. Against some hefty Arkansas adversaries, Street accomplished his mission and the Hogs were sweating in Fayetteville. With a little over six minutes remaining in the quarter, Texas had the ball on its own 36 yard line and used over two minutes in advancing seven yards to the 43. At that point with a palpitating fourth-and-three situation, Street completed a desperation 44-yard pass to Randy Peschel who enhanced the artistry of the action by making a diving catch at the Arkansas 13 yard line. Two plays later Jim Bertelsen ran two yards over left guard to score and a Longhorn by the name of Happy Feller became quite a happy fella as he booted the extra point to give Texas a 15-14 victory. It was a shootout that indeed lived up to its billing. Texas went on to defeat Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl and Ole Miss tripped Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl.

• Outsiders still wonder what John McKay told his football team during halftime. A quorum of the 90,814 fans sitting in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum on the afternoon of Nov. 30, 1974, hoped that the USC coach would deliver an extra-special message. It must have been a dilly! The Trojans, came out with fire in their eyes as they embarked upon one of college football's greatest comebacks. Anthony Davis, who had tallied USC's only touchdown in the first half (on a second period seven yard pass from QB Pat Haden) ignited the fiery turnabout by taking the opening kickoff of the second half and scooting 100 yards to the dismay of Ara Parseghian and his fighting Irish. Four more third quarter touchdowns were to come: two by Davis on six and four yard scamps and two by receiver John McKay, who collected 18 and 44 yard TD aeriels from his old high school battery mate, Hayden. Those 35 points in the third period were the most ever scored in one stanza against the Irish. Adding insult to injury, Shelton Diggs reeled in a 16-yard touchdown pass from Hayden and Charlie Phillips raced back a 58-yard interception (one of three he had on the day) for a TD as 14 fourth quarter points went on the board to give USC its biggest win ever over Notre Dame, 55-24. Davis' four touchdowns a record? No sir! "A.D." scored six times against the Irish in 1972 . . . without a halftime sermon by the coach. The Trojans won handily that year, 45-23.

Of the following six games on Chuck Howard's Top Ten of the Decade list, three of them were decided by one point; one by two points and two by three points. The games are listed in chronological order:

• Texas A&M coach Gene Stallings spoke clearly and authoritatively. He told his kickoff man, All-American linebacker Bill Hobbs, not to kick to Southern Methodist's Jerry Levias. The Aggies had just climaxed a 58-yard, 13-play scoring drive which put them ahead of SMU, 17-13, in college football's opening game of the 1967 season. It was a see-saw battle from the outset at A&M's Kyle Field and with a flimsy four point lead late in the fourth period, Stallings wanted to play it safe. Keep the ball away from the dangerous Levias, he ordered. As one might already conjecture, Hobbs sailed the pigskin into Jerry Levias' waiting arms and the flashy Mustang took it from his own 24 to the 42. With regular quarterback Mike Livingston on the sidelines, a pint-sized (5'-6" might be stretching it) signal caller named Inez Perez completed five straight passes (including three for 29, 11 and 12 yards) and it was first-and-10 on the Aggie six yard line with time running out. On second down at the six and four seconds left on the clock, Perez pierced Levias in the end zone and SMU eked out a 20-17 victory. Texas A&M bounced back to win six league games, collect the Southwest Conference championship and defeat Alabama in the Cotton Bowl. SMU, on the other hand, lost its next seven straight games and finished the 1967 season with a dismal 3-7 mark.

QUALITY.

Quality in a small car. What does this mean to you? To Toyota it means an automobile that's inexpensive, not cheap. The new generation of Toyota Corollas are built with quality. The proof? 9 out of 10 Toyota cars sold in this country since 1958 are still on the road today. Quality. You asked for it. You got it. Toyota.

Quality is durability and how a car handles the road.

Power assisted front disc brakes help you maintain control. MacPherson strut front suspension helps keep the ride smooth and unit body welded construction helps keep the Corolla tight and virtually rattle free.

Toyota's quality is in a line, not one car.

No matter what your space needs you'll find it in one of ten Corollas: the Hardtop, 2-Door Sedan, 2- or 4-Door Deluxe Sedan, 5-Door Wagon, the new Sport Coupe or the new Liftback™ with a split, fold down rear seat. And there's a sporty equipped SR-5 model of the Hardtop, Sport Coupe and Liftback.

A quality car can be economical. The Toyota Corolla gets great gas mileage. Note: 1976 EPA tests, with 5-speed overdrive transmission, 39 mpg on highway, 24 city. These EPA results are estimates.

The actual mileage you get will vary depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment. California EPA ratings will differ. An automatic transmission is available on Deluxe models.

Quality. You asked for it. You got it at nearly 1,000 authorized dealers across the U.S. These same dealers comprise a network of service departments with Toyota trained mechanics. The new generation of Toyota Corollas. If you can find a better built small car than a Toyota...buy it.

• O.J. Simpson was a year away from winning the Heisman Trophy. But as far as 90,772 Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum fans were concerned, the talented Trojan running back should have been handed the coveted award immediately after the USC-UCLA bash of Nov. 18, 1967. And if the trophy was to be given on that day, a piece of it should have gone to placekicker Rikki Aldridge. Simpson's 64-yard TD romp with less than five minutes remaining in the 37th annual cross-city classic tied the game at 20-20, and it was Aldridge who punctuated the victory. O. J. rushed for 177 yards in 30 carries and ironically, it was UCLA quarterback Gary Beban who was awarded college football's most treasured prize. Beban, receiver George Farmer and rusher Greg Jones fought gallantly against the Trojans, but Simpson, Steve Sogge, Earl McCullouch and Outland Trophy winner Ron Vary ultimately proved to be a point better. The Rose Bowl was at stake and John McKay's Trojans went on to defeat Indiana while the following week the down-trodden Bruins of Tommy Prothro lost to Syracuse.

(Tying this game on Chuck Howard's poll was the 1969 USC-UCLA game, won by the Trojans, 14-12, on a last minute pass from Jimmy Jones to Sam Dickerson good for 32-yards. UCLA failed on both two-point conversion attempts. The Bruins' signal caller was Dennis Dummit. Both teams went into the game undefeated and with one tie apiece. USC went on to defeat Michigan in the Rose Bowl.)

• Over 1,000 yards in total offense went into the books after Ole Miss and Alabama went after each other in Birmingham's Legion Field on the night of October 4, 1969. Between both teams, there were 81 passes thrown and only one intercepted. Mississippi's Archie Manning threw 52 of those passes and completed 33 for 436 yards and two scores. It wasn't enough. Scott Hunter of Alabama hit on 22 of 29 passes for 300 yards and one touchdown. It was enough. In one of the wildest nip-and-tuck offensive shows of all-time, Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide prevailed, 33-32. Ole Miss led, 26-21, early in the fourth quarter. Bama came back with a 67-yard drive and took a one point lead, 27-26. John Vaught's Rebels retaliated with a 64-yard march in three plays and resumed the lead, 32-27. All of this happened in eight minutes. Not to be

Tailgating Recipes

College football's most lasting contribution to American culture could be epicurean. Twenty-five centuries from now, as social scientists attempt to unravel the significance of our era, their research may show it was some time in the 20th century that Americans developed the quaint tribal custom . . . tailgating.

Man, his mate and groups of friends, a scholarly paper may reveal, would unwind every seventh day in the autumn of the year by packing very delicious picnic meals, stowing them in the back of their elongated road vehicles, then journeying to the parking areas of great playing fields.

There they would encamp, spread out the food on a fold-down type of door (called the tail gate) at the rear of their road vehicle, and picnic in the lovely autumn sun. Later they would join thousands of others in seats built around the playing field, watching students from opposing universities hurdle themselves at one another in some sort of rowdy game.

The scholarly study of 25 centuries hence will go on to hypothesize that while the rowdy game has long since been forgotten, the quaint tailgating custom was the actual origin of such modern diversions as lunargating (running the old space ship up to the moon for a day of picnicking) and Marsgating (a week long camp out on Mars).

However, we 20th century earthlings must still be concerned with something good to eat at our next tailgate party. So here are some nifty portable ideas — the first two from The R. T. French Company Test Kitchens in Rochester, New York, with the Soul Picnic menu contributed by Cri-bari Wines.

Frankly Delicious Stew is hot and hearty and just right for autumn appetites. It is easily and quickly made from ingredients that you're likely to have on hand, and the combination of franks and beans gets a special flavor boost from prepared yellow mustard. A vacuum container filled with Frankly Delicious Stew will be the star attraction of any tailgate feast.

Cheese and Macaroni Salad is the perfect traveling companion for the stew. The flavor fashion for fall is the creamy dressing which is easily created with an envelope of cheese sauce mix.

Serve with celery and green pepper sticks, fresh pears, chocolate brownies and hot coffee.

A HEARTY TAILGATE MEAL FILLS THE BILL ON A COOL AUTUMN AFTERNOON

FRANKLY DELICIOUS STEW

- 1 pound frankfurters, sliced
- 1 can (8-oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 2 cans (1-lb. each) pork and beans
- 1/4 cup Yellow Mustard
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar

Combine all ingredients in sauce pan; heat to boiling. Simmer 5 minutes. 6 servings.

CHEESE AND MACARONI SALAD

- 2 cups uncooked shell or elbow macaroni
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup instant Minced Onion
- 1 envelope (1 1/4 -oz.) Cheese Sauce Mix
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup milk

Cook macaroni in salted water until tender; drain and chill. Combine with celery and onion. Stir together until smooth contents of cheese sauce envelope, mayonnaise, and milk. Add to macaroni and mix lightly. 6 servings.

EVEN MORE SOUL PICNIC PEANUT BUTTER CHICKEN

- 1 frying chicken, cut in pieces
- salt and pepper
- dash garlic salt
- 3 oz. peanut butter
- 1/2 cup VIN ROSE

Brown chicken pieces in butter, season with salt and pepper and garlic salt. Thin peanut butter with wine; add to pan in which chicken is browning and simmer on low heat for 40 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Add wine to thin sauce if necessary. Wrap in foil to keep warm.

CUCUMBER SALAD

- 3 cucumbers, peeled
- 1 teaspoon sugar or honey
- 1/4 cup wine vinegar
- salt and pepper
- 2 large tomatoes

Cut cucumbers in cubes and sprinkle with sugar, vinegar, salt and pepper. This salad improves with storing in the refrigerator, and can last for several days. Add tomatoes right before serving.

APPLE BREAD

- 1 cup finely diced apple
- 1 stick butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts
- dash salt

Blend butter and sugar together; add beaten eggs, then apple. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and blend into apple mixture; then add nuts. Bake in buttered loaf pan at 325° for 45 minutes.

ACCESSORIES

thermos of coffee
salt and pepper, cream and sugar
TV tables, plates, silverware
watermelon, napkins backyard-type folding chairs (Serves 6) denied, the Tide rolled again, going 80 yards in 11 plays as Hunter hit George Ranager with a 14-yard TD strike on fourth-and-10. Ranager and teammate David Bailey, also a receiver (who caught nine passes for 115 yards) came from Meridian, Mississippi. It was obvious that John Vaught wasn't at the border when the Bear slipped these two prizes across the state line.

- At 30 years of age, Tennessee's Bill Battle had quickly established himself as one of college football's brightest young coaches. His 1971 confrontation with Auburn's Shug Jordan, one of the most distinguished veterans of the game, provided a unique contrast when the Tigers and Vols went to war in Neyland Stadium on Sept. 25. Tennessee placekicker George Hunt had put the Vols in front of Auburn, 9-3, on field goals of 45, 30 and 50 yards. Over six minutes remained in the game when Tennessee fumbled at the Tiger 14 yard line after driving from its own 20. Auburn's Pat Sullivan, the Heisman Trophy Winner, launched an 86-yard drive almost entirely through the air, hitting on five key passes, including two to All-American Terry Beasley who recharged his battery after being soundly shaken by a Bobby Majors tackle in the second quarter. Harry Unger scored on a five yard running play with 2:44 left in the game and placekicker Gardner Jett split the uprights to give Auburn a 10-9 triumph. Bill Battle grew a little older that day, but regrouped his Vols as he piloted them to a 10-2 season and a 14-13 win over Arkansas in the Liberty Bowl. Auburn (9-2-0) lost to Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl, 40-22.

This game was equivocated by Chuck Howard to the Tennessee-Georgia 17-17 deadlock played in Neyland Stadium in 1968. Down 17-9 with the clock running out, Tennessee quarterback Bubba Wyche hit Gary Kreis on a fourth-and-21 situation on the final play of the game. Wyche then fired to tight end Ken DeLong for the tying two-point conversion.)

- The final score was not officially recorded until 40 minutes after the game. It took that long for Big Ten Commissioner Wayne Duke to reach referee Gene Calhoun and obtain the verdict. In one of the most chaotic, confusing and controversial clashes ever, Michigan State emerged a 16-13 winner over Ohio State in a game played at East Lansing's Spartan Stadium on Nov. 9, 1974. With five minutes to go, Michigan State's Charlie Baggett tossed a 44-yard TD pass to Mike Jones making the score 13-9 in favor of the Buckeyes. A two-point conversion attempt failed. Two minutes later, MSU had the ball back and Levi Jackson raced 88 yards to score. Hans Nielsen converted and the underdog Spartans moved into a 16-13 lead. When Ohio State took over, Cornelius Green attempted a pass on first down and although a Spartan linebacker appeared to have intercepted, an official said no, the ball was trapped. Green led the Buckeyes from their own 29 to a first-and-10 at the Michigan State 11 with a minute to go. On first down, Archie Griffin goes up the middle for five. Second and five on the six . . .

there are 29 seconds left on the clock . . . Champ Henson picks up five . . . first-and-goal on the one . . . Henson tries the middle for no gain . . . clock still running as Buckeyes scurry to the huddle . . . backs are moving as final play starts . . . Green fumbles and Brian Baschnagel scoops up ball and runs into end zone . . . goal line official signals TD . . . but the referee had already indicated that time had run out. Both teams claimed victory and there was pandemonium among the 78,533 witnesses in Spartan Stadium. Commissioner Duke made his way from the press box to the field and finally to the officials' dressing room where referee Calhoun put the record straight once and for all: Michigan State was the winner, 16-13. Game films clearly indicate that Mr. Calhoun signaled time had run out before the start of the play, but for 40 minutes afterwards, the teams involved and the college football world were kept in the dark.

- There were all-Americans all over the field when Michigan and Ohio State played for the 71st time in Columbus on Nov. 23, 1974. The Buckeyes had eight, including such stalwarts as Archie Griffin, Neal Colzie and Pete Cusick. Michigan didn't have to take a back seat either with the likes of such defensive demons as Don Dufek, Dave Brown and Tim Davis. But it was the little-known walkon by the name of Tom Klaban who stole the headlines that day. The unheralded OSU placekicker booted four field goals, the last one a monumental 43-yarder to give the Buckeyes a 12-10 victory and their third straight trip to the Rose Bowl. Klaban had kicked three in the second quarter (47, 25 and 43 yards) and his four-for-the-day set an OSU record. Klaban's performance may have not been more than a game statistic had Michigan's Tom Lantry connected on a 3-yard attempt on a second-and-four situation with 16 seconds remaining in the game. Lantry had tried earlier in the quarter on a 57-yard effort, but it fell short. He had put three points on the board (a 47-yarder) shortly after Denny Franklin had thrown a 42-yard TD pass to Gil Chapman in Michigan's only scoring output during the first quarter. But it was Klaban who emerged as the game's hero and for his efforts, Coach Woody Hayes gave the placekicker a "field commission" by awarding him a scholarship after the game.

On Us

When Pete graduates and goes to work, he's going to need more than determination and ability. Good jobs depend on even more basic things, one of which is a reliable source of electricity.

Electricity is essential to power the motors that drive the industries that employ the people who make the parts that go into the things we all buy.

When the industries we serve run on electricity, we can't afford to run short of it, for Pete's sake.

Alumni Help for Many

Scholarships Make a Difference

Costs of obtaining a college education continue to rise, and more and more scholarship money is needed by qualified students who just can't go to college without help. UK Alumni Association and individual alumni provide a tremendous service in efforts to make scholarships available. Here is the story of one student whose alumni scholarship has made a difference.

Meet Betty Peterson, an English major with a 3.93 grade point average on a four point scale at Somerset Community College. She is not an average person!

Her day begins at 5:30 a.m. when she awakes to prepare breakfast for her husband and four children. The children ranging in age from 5 to 13 years leave for school around 7 a.m.; her husband leaves at 7:30 and she is in class three days a week by 8 a.m.

"I'm one of those people who has always put family first. It was a little hard to adjust, but I managed to make it work and I have enjoyed going to school," says Betty who began attending school part-time in 1973.

"My youngest child was born prematurely and the doctors were concerned about chromosome damage. I dwelled on that fact night and day. I was so involved in that problem, so upset, that my husband suggested I get something else on my mind. I have always liked to write so school seemed to be the answer."

Today her son is in kindergarten and doing fine and so is Betty. "School helped me through a difficult time and I'm so thankful I came back."

For awhile it looked like Betty wouldn't be continuing her degree work at SCC. Her husband had a heart attack shortly before the fall '75 term was to begin. To her there was no decision to be made. It looked as if family concerns would demand her full attention again.

"When one of my professors, Billy C. Clark (an alumnus of '67) heard I wasn't coming back to school, he came to see us and told me I couldn't quit. If I did, I might never get back. We knew he was probably right."

So it was Billy Clark who put Betty in touch with the financial aid officers on campus which in turn matched her up with the Alumni Association scholarship.

It is Professor Clark who also encouraged her in her writing, turning her life around. As an English and creative writing teacher at Somerset, he recognized her potential. Already she is a published writer, but her appetite is whet to do more.

She has completed a book which is looking for a publisher at the moment. It's the tender story of love between a very old man and a very little girl. Her short stories have appeared in "Blue Grass Woman", "Appalachian Review", and the "Mountain Review". She also writes prose and is working on a second book. "It's giving way to school and other things right now," says Betty, "but I get it out occasionally to work on it."

In addition to a 13-hour course load, Betty is also copy editor and feature writer for the SCC newspaper.

Betty's future plans, though tentative, include UK. She'll need a scholarship again, but in repayment she is willing to commute to the UK main campus for classes. It's a sure bet she'll maintain her scholastic record and those of us who know of her will recognize the Betty Peterson by-line in print.

Meeting people like Betty is one way of assuring yourself that money for scholarships is one of the best investments you can make in the moral, intellectual and productive strength of this country.

Though Betty's story is unique, it is not the only outstanding example of the calibre of people attending UK's campuses on scholarships. Currently there are more than 22 students attending classes through Alumni Association grants. In addition there are numerous students attending on grants supported by either alumni contributions to the annual giving fund or by individuals who really care and totalling some $250,000. Plans, too, exist for expanding this support with funds raised by the Association's sale of an art print of the Administration Building painted by C. G. Morehead.

The prints sell for $20 each plus sales tax and $3 for postage and handling. They are available at the UK Alumni Association, Lexington, KY. 40506.

Once again, TV service technicians give these opinions about Zenith:

We're proud of our record of building dependable quality products. But if it should ever happen that a Zenith product doesn't live up to your expectations—or if you want details of the service technicians' survey—write to the Vice President, Consumer Affairs, Zenith Radio Corporation, 1900 N. Austin Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60639.
