HOLOCAUST AWARENESS

During the next month, a number of events concerning the Holocaust will be held in Lexington.

Temple Adath Israel will present a lecture by Dr. Michael Morgan, Professor of Philosophy and Jewish Studies at Indiana University titled "Jewish Thought and the Holocaust: Before and After the Six Day War." The lecture will be Friday evening, March 20, during the Erev Shabbat Service beginning at 8 p.m.

From April 5 to May 17, Central Kentucky Jewish Federation, and the University of Kentucky, will co-sponsor an exhibit of 57 drawings by Gyorgy Kadar, a Hungarian Holocaust survivor, at the UK Singletary Center. This exhibit from the Vanderbilt Holocaust Art Collection depicts scenes from five death camps where Kadar was incarcerated. He completed these works in eight months following his liberation from Buchenwald in 1945.

The formal opening for the Kadar exhibit will be held on Thursday evening, April 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Singletary Center for the Arts, when Dr. Raul Hilberg will present the Lexington Theological Seminary's Moosnick Lecture about the Holocaust. A retired Professor of Political Science at the University of Vermont, Dr. Hilberg is an internationally renowned scholar of the Holocaust and the author of The Destruction of the European Jews. Preceding the lecture, the art museum will be open from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m. and coffee will be served.

Dr. Hilberg will also speak at 10 a.m. on Thursday morning, April 9, and Friday morning, April 10, in the Fellowship Hall of the Lexington Theological Seminary. The community is invited.

The Central Kentucky Jewish Federation with the UK Art Museum recently held a workshop about the Holocaust for more than 70 Fayette County teachers. Chaired by Carrie Zack of the Art Museum's staff, the session featured talks by Dr. Linda Levstik, UK Professor of Curriculum and Instruction, Rabbi Slaton, and Steve Caller. Information for teachers about Holocaust video and book resources donated to the Art Museum, a bibliography for middle and high school students, a list of community resource people, and other educational materials were distributed.

The main purpose of the workshop was to provide information for teachers bringing students to the art exhibit or attending a dramatic version of the popular book I Never Saw Another Butterfly. This play will be presented by the Lexington Children's Theatre at 10 a.m. and noon on April 14 and 15 at the Recital Hall of the Singletary Center. Many Fayette County teachers have already arranged to bring their classes to see it.

The Kadar art exhibit will be viewed on May 17 by about 150 delegates from Hadassah's Central State Region (Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky), who will be attending the spring conference in Lexington.

A Central Kentucky Jewish Federation Committee headed by Marilyn Moosnick and Rose Rita Wurmser has been instrumental in arranging most of these Holocaust awareness events. They have received substantial assistance from Harriet Fowler, Director of the UK Art Museum, Sharyn Sharer of the CKJF staff and Judy Levine, Chairperson of the CKJF Community Activities Committee.

CKJF Nominating Committee

The Nominating Committee chaired by Marty Kaplan has presented the following candidates for CKJF Board Election. They are:

Sandy Adland
Judy Baumann
Ellie Goldman
Michael Grossman
Jim Mischner
Marc Plavin
Art Shecket
Lyn Shraberg
Mark Simpson
Rose Rita Wurmser

At the next CKJF Board Meeting on Wednesday, March 25th at 7:30 PM, additional nominations will be accepted from any member of the Federation. The nominee must be eligible to serve, and have agreed to serve. The nomination must be submitted in writing and seconded by four members of the Federation. All Board meetings take place at the CKJF office, 333 Waller Avenue, Suite 5, and are open to the community.

CALLING ALL CAMPERS

Summer is still far away, but it's never too early for parents to start thinking about camps for their children. The following five should appeal to the young in heart and body:

Camp Shalom: A three-week day camp for children ages 4-8 sponsored by Central Kentucky Jewish Federation. The 4-5 group will attend for half a day (0:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.); and the 6-8 group for a full day (9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.). Camp Shalom will be from June 9 - June 26 at the Richmond Road area location.

Camp Shalom will be holding its 23rd session. The Director is Mark Scarr and the Assistant Directors are Sandra Mason and Tareasa Pearl. All inquiries should be addressed to Jessica Ross 273-4231, or Sharyn Sharer at CKJF 252-7622. Brochures will be mailed in April.

G.U.C.I.: Located in Zionsville, Indiana (a 3-4 hour drive from Lexington), the camp is for boys and girls entering grades 4-10.

There are two sessions: June 16 - July 12, and July 14 - August 9. In addition, there is an OVFTY Institute from August 10 - August 16 for members in grades 9-12 and an AVODAH work/study program from June 11 - August 9 for campers entering the 11th grade.

A Union of American Hebrew Congregations' camp, G.U.C.I. will hold its 33rd season of Reform Judaism programming. For an application form and brochure, or additional information, call the Temple office 269-2979 or contact the Camp Director, Rabbi Ronald Klotz, 9349 Moore Road, Zionsville, IN 46077.

Camp Young Judaea: Camp Young Judaea, sponsored by Young Judaea Hadassah and located in Waupaca, Wisconsin, is for children entering the 3rd through 9th grades. The first session will be held from June 22 - July 15. The second session will be held from July 21 - August 13. A mini session will be held July 21 - August 3 for 3rd and 4th graders only.

For further information, contact Sara Charney Cohen or Neal Saxe, Young Judaea Office, 2935 Birch Hollow Drive, Ann Arbor, 48108, (313) 973-0038.

Camp Tel Yehudah: Camp Tel Yehudah, sponsored by Young Judaea and Hadassah and located in Barryville, New York, is for children entering the 9th through 12th grades. The first session will be held June 24 - July 20. The second session will be held from July 23 - August 17.

This camp offers an opportunity to explore Jewish life, learning and culture in a positive community atmosphere. It includes creative programming, an active sports and recreation program, enthusiastic Israeli cultural activities, and traditional religious observance that instill the individual with a lasting set of Jewish and personal values skills. Shabbat and Kashrut observed.

For more information, contact Neal Saxe, Young Judaea Office, JCC, 2935 Birch Hollow Drive, Ann Arbor, 48108, (313) 973-0038.

Anytown Kentucky: Anytown Kentucky is a one-week summer human relations/leadership workshop for teenagers. It is now accepting applications from students who will be juniors or seniors in the Fall.

Teenagers of varied cultural, racial, religious, and ethnic backgrounds come together to share their unique individuality. Workshops, discussion groups, sports, cultural and talent nights, campfires (and you) will make this an unforgettable experience.

The camp will be held June 14 - 20 near Leitchfield, Kentucky at beautiful Rough River Lake Camp. Tuition is $195.00 with financial assistance available from NCCJ based on need. For more information, contact Lauren Weinberg at 277-4434 or write: NCCJ, 2029 Bellefonte Drive, Lexington, Kentucky 40503. CKJF also offers non-need related scholarships.

PROJECT TALMUD

Chabad of Kentucky is offering an exciting Jewish study experience in a spirited Yeshiva environment. On March 17th, and again on March 29th, Chabad is sponsoring Project Talmud for the Lexington Jewish community.

There will be two sessions each evening. The first will run from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Subjects will include Talmud 101, Bible Study, and The Origin Of The Oral Tradition using the works of Maimonides as a study text.

The second session will be from 8:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Classes will focus on Advanced Talmud, The Messianic Age, and The Laws and Ethics of Everyday Life.

All classes will be held at the Lexington Chabad office, at 333 Waller Avenue, adjacent to CKJF. For more information kindly call Avrom Epstein at work 233-5868, or at home 269-7071.

GUARDIANS OF ZION

Guardians of Zion, a major gifts event held by CKJF each year, was a huge success. It was chaired by Liz Broudy, who deserves many thanks for her efforts. The event was attended by almost fifty people who pledged a minimum gift of $1200.00.

The speakers this year were Addisu Melaku and Yuri Feldman. Addisu arrived in Israel with the Ethiopian airlift in May 1991. He spoke of his efforts on behalf of Beta Israel (Ethiopian Jews) in both Gondar and Addis Ababa where he was one of the airlift organizers. Because of his efforts, he spent a total of 3 1/2 years in prison in Ethiopia. He now works for the Joint Distribution Committee in Israel.

Yuri Feldman arrived in Israel from the former Soviet Union in January 1991. He spoke of his experiences as a Jew in the Soviet Union and his freedom in Israel. He is now a radio-and molecular-physicist at the Casal Institute of Applied Chemistry at Hebrew University. Both Addisu and Yuri spoke to the Religious Schools on Sunday morning to share their experiences with our youngsters.

Stuart Pressma, a Young Leadership Award winner from Louisville, joined us at the Guardians of Zion Dinner to present the needs of Israel, Jews throughout the world, and our local community. Stuart's remarks were warmly received, and we thank him for his well-spoken presentation.

Dr. Michael Morgan To Be TAI Scholar In Residence

TAI Adult Education presents Dr. Michael Morgan, a Professor of Psychology and Jewish studies at Indiana University, as this year's Scholar In Residence, March 20 through 22.

Dr. Morgan has achieved national acclaim as an author, teacher and lecturer. His forthcoming book, "Horror and the Mind's Limit : An Anthology of Philosophy, Christian Theology, and Jewish Thought After the Holocaust" will be a fascinating look at the impact of the Holocaust on contemporary theology and thinking. He has been a faculty member at IU since 1975.

Dr. Morgan will give three lectures at TAI. The first during Erev Shabbat Services on Friday, March 20th, at 8:00 p.m. on "Jewish Thought and the Holocaust: Before and After the Six Day War." The second will be an informal lecture / discussion during a pot luck lunch on March 21st, 11:30 a.m., with the topic: "The Jewish Thought of Emil Fackenheim." The third lecture will be Sunday, March 22nd, 10:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m. on the "New Dilemma of Liberal Judaism."

PASTRY FOR PURIM

Poppy Seed Chiffon Cake

1 1/2 cups sugar
2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons poppy seeds
5 egg yolks
1/2 cup oil
3/4 cup orange juice
grated peel of 1 orange
grated peel of 1 lemon
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1 cup egg whites (6-7)
1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
powdered sugar

Combine sugar, flour, baking powder, salt and poppy seeds in large bowl of electric mixer. Set aside. In another bowl, combine egg yolks, oil, orange juice, orange and lemon peels and vanilla. Add to sugar mixture and beat until smooth. Beat egg white with cream of tartar until stiff and glossy peaks form. Gently pour egg yolk mixture into egg whites, 1/2 at a time, until well blended. Pour into ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees 55 minutes, then bake at 350 degrees 10 to 15 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Invert pan on rack until cold. Loosen sides of cake from pan with sharp knife. Just before serving, sprinkle with powdered sugar. Makes about 12 servings.

MULTI-CULTURAL DIVERSITY DAY

Multi-cultural Diversity Day at UK was a great success thanks to all who assisted. The highlight of the CKJF booth was the film "Operation Moses" about the escape of the Ethiopian Jews. Everyone at the multi-cultural day stopped to watch it. Many interested people stopped by to learn about Jewish culture. Anyone interested in assisting in the booth or the planning stages for next year are welcome to participate. It's a lot of fun to be a part of this special day at the University of Kentucky (and the food is great!).

PASSOVER HOSPITALITY

For the past twenty years we have had a "Matzah of Hope" as part of our Seder to remind us of Soviet Jews who could not celebrate freely. Our hopes have been realized! We have in our community new American families who are looking forward to celebrating Passover in freedom.
CKJF is looking for families
wishing to invite these new Americans to join them in their Passover observances. Please call 252-7622 or 252-7600 to offer your hospitality.

There are also Jewish University students in the area who would appreciate home hospitality for the holidays. If this is a possibility please contact CKJF.
