TITLE II-C GRANT

The University of Kentucky is one of eight Southeastern ARL Libraries sharing a Title II-C Grant for $800,000 to develop a regional resource sharing system for current serials. The cooperative project will result in a system which potentially could include all members of SOLINET. The funds will permit the Libraries to create a data base of current serials titles and to formulate plans to create a computer-interpretable notation for detailed serials holdings, rapid interlibrary loans, cooperative serials collection development, and an outreach program to encourage greater regional participation. Southeastern ARL Libraries Cooperative Serials Project Participants: Emory University, University of Florida, Florida State University, University of Georgia, University of Kentucky, University of Miami, University of Tennessee, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. The project will be funded from October 1, 1981 to September 30, 1982. Florida will act as the principal participant and coordinator of the project. Areas funded for Kentucky will include both professional and support staff, equipment, supplies, travel and FTU's.
